To realize our Vision, we have drawn up our desired status for 2030 and we will steadily implement plans.

In order to realize our Vision and be the company we aim to become, the Toyota Boshoku group has clarified its materiality (the approach we adopt to resolve the important issues we have identified to be prioritized through our business operations from among a variety of social issues), as well as our 2025 target and our desired status for 2030. Then, in 2020, we formulated the 2025 Mid-Term Business Plan, an action plan to achieve this materiality. We will implement this plan while maximizing our underlying philosophy and the strengths we have developed over our 100-year history.

note theat is a business of region that is capable of cleating added value on a Genchi-Genbutsu (go, see & study) basis and has competitive advantage compared to competitors.

As the automotive industry enters a once-in-a-century transformational period, the Toyota Boshoku group is advancing with R&D in response to the evolution of technologies such as CASE¹ and MaaS,² and to changing values in relation to automobiles. We are also focusing on investment in and collaboration with startup companies, aiming to create new value in the interior space through synergy with our technologies.

Priority Action 1 ___ P. 47

It is important for us to always keep in mind the end user's perspective, with an awareness of "B to B to C," whereby we are trusted and chosen by customers. Based on the concept that people are the foundation of MONOZUKURI, we promote manufacturing with an emphasis on HITOZUKURI. We have set ourselves the challenge of developing environmentally sound production and manufacturing technologies for the next 100 years through a fusion of reasonable price, high-quality products with cutting-edge technology.

² Mobility as a Service: This is a concept for seamlessly linked new mobility that combines all types of transportation other than personally owned vehicles as one service

Market environment and future business development

As a system supplier, the Toyota Boshoku group integrates the entire space, i.e. the components of mobility, as a single package. We will continue to create new value as an Interior Space Creator by providing solutions to realize spaces that pursue comfort based on the premise of safety and the environment.

The automotive market is facing a period of major change, said to occur only once every 100 years. The Toyota Boshoku group is advancing with R&D in response to the evolution of technologies such as CASE and MaaS, and to changing values in relation to automobiles. For example, in terms of the evolution of autonomous driving technology, we are leading the creation of new value for mobility spaces. This includes the creation of MX (Mobility eXperience) 221, an interior space for rideshare mobility that assumes autonomous driving level 4, and MOOX,* which envisions the use of space for a variety of services. We are also expanding and upgrading our products that support electrification in order to adapt to changes in energy in society—from engines to hybrids, hydrogen fuel, and electrification.

Implementing a business portfolio strategy aimed at our desired status for 2030

We aim to be a company that creates an environmentally sound society in which people of all generations have smiles on their faces and lead enriched lives.

With the goal of creating new value as an Interior Space Creator, which is our desired status for 2030, we aim to achieve a ratio of 20% of sales to companies outside of Toyota Motor Corporation by strengthening our competitive advantage and offering multi-dimensional value.

In addition, our aim is for 5% of revenue to come from new business, by promoting operations that are compatible with CASE and MaaS, and by creating new value.
