

Toyota Boshoku Report 2021 Issued

Kariya (JAPAN) – October 25, 2021 – Toyota Boshoku Corporation has issued the Toyota Boshoku Report 2021, an integrated tool for communicating its efforts to enhance the group's corporate value.

The Toyota Boshoku group's materiality was formulated in July 2020, and in November the 2025 Mid-term Business Plan was announced by incorporating measures to accomplish that materiality. Based on the 2025 Mid-term Business Plan, the Toyota Boshoku Report 2021 has been issued to disclose the group's approach to the future and priority actions being taken. The report also includes a special feature introducing the MOOX autonomous vehicle interior concept space, which has been developed and field-tested with a clear focus on MaaS. Additionally, the structure of Toyota Boshoku Report 2021 has been organized into chapters in accordance with the Management Concept, presenting and communicating the company's structure and characteristics in a highly understandable manner.

1. Features of the Toyota Boshoku Report 2021

【Management Concept】

Philosophy

Value creation process

【Vision】

Message from the President

Message from the CFO

Special Feature 1 MOOX—an autonomous driving mobility service space designed for MaaS

Special Feature 2 Formulation of 2025 Environmental Action Plan

【Materiality】

Materiality penetration initiatives

【Mid-Term Business Plan】

Priority Action

Business Strategies

【Governance】

【Financial / Corporate Information】

2. Format

Legal sized, 100 page report (1,200 issues)

Download <https://www.toyota-boshoku.com/global/company/library/>