HiPhi is a brand-new luxury smart electric brand of Human Horizons. HiPhi X, which opens the brand's epoch-making curtain, is defined as "the world's first evolvable supercar SUV". The HiPhi X door trims are developed and produced by Toyota Boshoku (China).

The design of the HiPhi X door trim eliminates the traditional physical buttons. Instead, it combines an electronic touch panel with a door trim wrapped by soft material, creating a "warm technology" ambiance cleanly and simplistically. The height and tilt of the elbow-rest are perfectly matched to the vehicle body design, creating optimum ride comfort and an immersive cabin experience.

The product on display is the interior door trim of the Founding 6-Seater Version in the color matching of Jade Silver and with double-stitching ornaments. The geometric perforated pattern on the exterior cladding guarantees a consistent hole distribution pattern by the precise positioning of the exteriors of the components. It features an outstanding texture and highlights high-end luxury.
